“ Mack you are going to be missed. You brought so much to our family. The years that I have known you makes your passing so difficult for us all. Robert was bless to have you in his life and this will be very hard for him. I know through his faith and love of the children you both have raised and the support of family he will make it. You have inspired him through the time you shared and I know he loves you and will cherish that time. I know you are there with my mom Daisy in God's kingdom. May your journey be one of peace and joy and may God bless you.
