“ I have fond memories of my Uncle Derrick. Our road trips as a child stand out the most. They were always fun, he'd travel to Spanish Town to get us, and he'd trust my navigating skills as I read the map. Not a GPS, but a kid with a map. He showed that I could be trusted and my words carried weight. Simple as it was, it was similar experiences that helped instill confidence in a young child. Thank you Uncle Derrick. I pray you rest in peace knowing your work is done. We'll take it from here.
