“ Janae posted a condolence you should see me at work tryna keep busy because every time it gets quiet, I cry. I came to the conclusion that this will be the last year i work on this day. it's officially a holiday for me now, esp when spook come home. if i don't see him any other day of the year when he gets home it'll definitely be this one. k think it's so hard for me because all i keep hearing you say is, "y'all got to hold on to each other" but because your son isn't home that is so hard to do. we all have made great progress since you left us i just wish you got to see it before your eyes closed. hopefully it won't change when he touch down. Just had to get that out the way so i can get on with this day as best as i could. LOVE YOU. oh while i have you here please hug keith tight and don't let go as i didn't get to say good bye to him.

“ Janae posted a condolence Happy Queen Day!!!! I still can't believe you left us. I miss you more than you will ever know. Just because I know you needed to and deserved to rest, doesn't mean i accept it. I just deal with it. I love you past the moon and stars UWMA

“ Janae uploaded photo(s) Hey GODdes, you're on my mind heavy and for very strange reasoning. This weekend I found out the singer Traci Braxton died. I don't know that woman from a can of paint but hearing her story hit the reset button on my emotions. I haven't been able to stop thinking about you and crying. I even been praying about it. My heart is so heavy I don't know what to do. I figured writing to you would make me feel better but I'm still crying in real time. I miss you so much some days I feel like I can't wait to die to see you but then I think about my kids feeling the same way I feel right now and snap out of it. They say these emotions come in waves so I guess it's time for me to get an emotional surf board and ride out. Until I write again continue to sleep peacefully. I love you forever

“ Janae posted a condolence Today is the second anniversary of you becoming my Goddess. It amazes me that we've actually survived 2 whole years. I'm choosing not to be sad today as I have come to the terms of you deserving the peace you couldn't ever seem to find in life. Today I'm focusing on our funny moments as you know there were many. Like the time you got on my nerves so bad I called your mother on you Imbo! I was like 32 when this happened but it was my last resort because even you didn't play with Marie, as sweet as she is. I love and miss you so much can't say that enough. I'm short on words but I couldn't let this day go by without acknowledging what you've meant to me. Continue to sleep peacefully, kiss my aunties, Poppy and Matoka for me. Until I write again (kisses) PS: Please forgive me for not answering my fathers phone calls today, I explained to you the energy I'm trying to keep today and we know how he is....he means well but I just can't lol

“ Janae posted a condolence Hey Roni the Goddess, just stopped by to say I love and miss you. I would write at least once a week but it's still not that easy for me. It's been almost two years but some days it feels like five minutes ago. I feel you all around me but I guess that's not enough for me (wonder where I get that from) I need new memories even if they not real. So pls stop by in my dreams it's been like two months. I know it's summertime And you probably up there throwing heavenly bbqs and all, lol. Kiss my grand daddy, my aunties, matoka and Ms Helen for me pls. Tell everyone else up there I said hi and I will see them again someday but not too soon. I love you past the moon My Queen turned Goddess

“ Naya posted a symbolic gesture Hey Queen, you've been on my mind so heavy these last 24 hrs. Okay first off let me start off with what's going on. Yesterday I got that civil service appointment that I told you about over 2 1/2 years ago. It finally happened for me and as long as I waited I wasn't moved by it. Then a few hours after that, I was called about a house I looked at months ago. The back story to that house is I looked at it made a offer for it but it needed work. I was taking out an additional loan because some things that needed to be addressed in the house I needed to be done prior to moving in it. At the time

The owner couldn't understand the process so decided to go with another buyer. I was broken by that to the point I stopped looking at houses. Yesterday my agent reached out to inform me that the seller is now interested in my offer. I was over the whole house thing but needless to say that contract is currently pending. I got so emotional during this time because, with all apologies to our father God, you couldn't tell me that it wasn't you that opened both doors for me. I miss you so much and still cry as if this happened yesterday yet, I can feel you all around me. As a matter of fact from now on I will no longer address you as Queen, you are now my Goddess. Continue to sleep Peacefully I love you

“ Livingston Janae uploaded photo(s) It’s been a long, long year yet it still feels like yesterday that I lost you in physical form. I feel your presence daily. I just wish I could kiss you and control the narrative in my dreams. When I dream of you I always awake wishing I had said something I didn’t get to say while you were there. My heart still yearns for you instill can’t believe you left us. I’m trying to be around the family more but the truth is I’m ok when I’m not around them. Being around them makes me miss you even more. I’m supposed to spend today with uncle Tommy. You know we gonna celebrate your life and do a whole lot of laughing because we both have a lot of stories about you. I love you QUEEN Happy Angelversary. Until I write or dream of you again Rest Up Beautiful “ Janae posted a condolence It’s almost been a year and I’m in here crying like it’s the 12th of September 2019. I miss you so much. It’s been hard, but I’ve been pushing. You’ve always said you wanted us to bury you and not the other way around but still, I thought I would be an old lady calling my old mother to laugh on the phone and reflect on what my grown children were doing in their lives. But honestly, there has always been a small part of me that wanted you to be at peace. You used to worry about EVERYTHING!! Sometimes, to the point of me being so annoyed because you worried for other people who didn’t even care for themselves as much as you did. Last night god called Ms Helen to be in y’all company. Pls watch over us with her and when you see her, adjust her wings as perfectly as I know yours are.

I miss you and thought this day would be hard but I’m pushing. Can you believe all daddy said today was “61 years ago a child was born and I loved her dearly” I swear I was gonna block his calls today because I knew if Mari didn’t make me cry he would.
