“ From the moment I met you my freshman year i knew you were someone i would cherish deeply. We instantly clicked and you became more than “yana’s sister”, you became my friend. I’ll never forget semi, that one car ride, our random FaceTimes, or all the motivation and inspiration you gave me to be the best I could be. You really were the older sister I never had. You had the purest soul one could have and i wish I could’ve told you one more time how much I love you. Our little group chat will never be the same without you but we talk about you everyday and we miss you even more #therealestnevertheslimest 🥹 I love you nae rest easy

“ My sweet baby, you turned into a beautiful young woman right before my eyes. You loved life and followed the beat of your own drum even when advised not too. Your presence is missed heavily but you will always be a light in our hearts. I love you always.

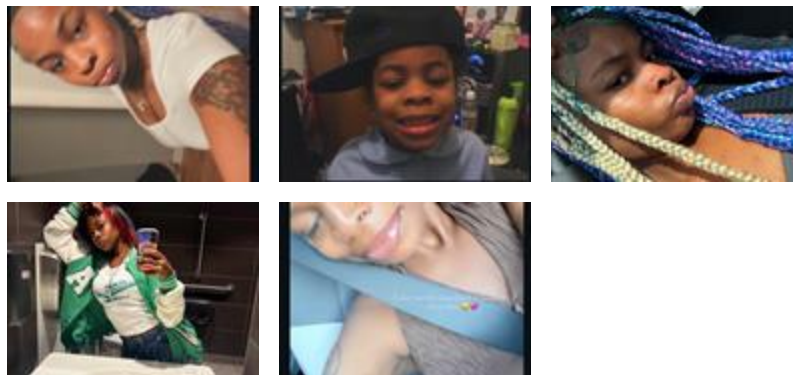

Kesh and Dev you guys already know how sorry I am that you both have to go through this and I love you both. My prayers remain with you and the rest of Nae's loved ones.
